DETAILED ACTION

Current Status

1. This action is responsive to Applicants' communication of 7 February 2007.
2. Receipt and entry of Applicants' amendment is acknowledged.
3. Claims 20-29 are in active consideration in the application.
4. The 103 rejection is maintained for the reason given in the previous office action.

Applicants' argue that their process for making organodialkylalkoxysilane differs from the process of Urbaniak et al. in that applicants claim a continuous process by continuously contacting an alcohol in countercurrent with a silane while Urbaniak et al. process is conducted in batch form wherein the alcohol and silane are added in the same reaction pot. However, the Examiner notes that continuous process and the use of countercurrent are well-known techniques in a chemical process to optimize the efficiency of the system and does not constitute a patentable distinction. Additionally, merely modifying the process conditions such as temperature and concentration is not a patentable modification absent a showing of criticality. In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 U. S. P. Q. 233 (C. C. P. A. 1955). The instantly claimed invention would therefore have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Claim Objection

Claim 21 is objected for depending on non-elected claim 1 and claim 23 is objected for depending on claim 23.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
